WASHINGTON.

Prof. C. V. Riley has resigned the position of Entomologist for the Bureau of Agriculture, and will accept a position as a special agent on the commission authorized by Congress to inquire into the grasshopper pest, etc.

The jury in the case of the Widow Oliver vs. Simon Cameron, for damages for breach of promise, etc., rendered a verdict in favor of defendant. It is said that an appeal will be taken.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Francis A. Walker of New Haven as Superintendent of the Tenth Census.

The Democratic Senatorial Caucus, on the 24, formally decided to retain permanently 15 of the present officers of the Senate. Among them, Capt. James B. Easton, Assistant Doorkeeper, and the venerable Wm. John (well known as keeper of the main door of the Senate Chamber), both of whom have been in the service of the Senate 40 years or more; and also Asst. Secy. S. S. Johnston, of the Document Room, together with two of the Acting Assistant Doorkeepers who are experienced Union soldiers. It was also agreed that the clerical staff of the Senate shall be gradually made during the present month in such a manner as to avoid inconvenience as much as possible.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Prof. Andrew D. White of New York as Minister to Germany; Cornelius A. Logan of Illinois as Minister to Central America; also, A. B. Norton, United States Marshal for the Northern District of Texas, and Jefferson P. Kiddier, Associate Justice Supreme Court, Dakota.

The President has nominated David T. Corbin of South Carolina as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Utah, and Thos. H. Wade of Illinois for Receiver of Public Moneys at La Mesa, New Mexico.

Prof. C. V. Riley, late entomologist of the Department of Agriculture, says the cause of his resignation was an unwillingness to incur further risk of being treated disrespectfully whenever he made any suggestions for the benefit of this division.

The members of the National Board of Health have agreed to recommend a bill establishing a rigid quarantine, foreign and inland, and authorizing its enforcement by Federal authority. It is recommended that at river cities and other points where the epidemic prevails the most rigid surveillance of vessels be enforced. The Southern Senators and Representatives it is said will insist upon legislation on the yellow fever and cholera epidemics before the present session adjourns.

Prof. Cyrus Thomas of Illinois has been tendered the position of Entomologist of the Department of Agriculture, but he has declined the appointment.

The organization of the National Entomological Aid Society, having for its object the regulation of insect pests, etc., at the West, has been further perfected by the choice of a National Executive Committee, consisting of Senator Windom, President; Senators Hamlin, Chandler and Teller; Representatives, Messrs. T. B. Greener is Secretary.

WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

The Commercial printing-office at Davis City, Decatur County, Iowa, was burned on the night of the 30th ult. by incendiaries. On the following day two more printing-offices, a notoriously bad character, and one named Tartar, were seized by a mob, and Tucker hanged. Tartar was rescued and taken to jail, but the mob, led by McClair, was visited by the mob, the building torn down and contents destroyed.

A special to the Galveston News, from Fort Griffin, says that on the night of the 20th ult. nine disguised and armed men took possession of Hancock's store, on Topo Creek, near Staked Plains, covering the clerks and others with pistols until they robbed the store of all the money, arms and ammunition. They then fired a volley of shot at a party on route to Leadville, taking them by surprise, and shooting Mr. Anderson, who attempted resistance. They took about $300 and all the live stock of the party. After leaving the vicinity they went to Blanco Canyon, robbed the store of Conrad & Bots of $1,000 worth of provisions, arms, etc. They are believed to be the notorious Reeves gang from Lipsia County, N. M. The rangers are in pursuit of the desperadoes.

The Iowa Democratic State Convention will be held at Council Bluffs on May 21.

The Louisville, Nashville and Southern Railway Company have obtained possession, by the purchase of the stock, of the Southern Divisions of the Southeastern Railroad, running from Evansville, Ind., to Nashville, Tenn. The two lines have hitherto been run in sharp competition.

Walter Watson was hanged at Newport, Ind., on the 2d, for the murder of Ezra Combs in January last.

Dr. Henry Meyer and Mrs. Henry Gelderman are under arrest in Chicago, charged with murder. Some time ago Meyer's wife and Mrs. Gelderman, a woman who died quite suddenly, and under circumstances which, taken in connection with the subsequent conduct of the surviving husband, led to the suspicion of foul play. The bodies of the two deceased were recently exhumed and post mortem examinations made of them.

William Harris died in Louisville, Ky., on the 23d, from a congestive fever, supposed to have resulted from excessive fatigue and exhaustion following a six days' pedestrian contest in which he came out a close second.

A committee of prominent river men, appointed by the recent Cincinnati River Convention to examine into the feasibility of a plan for the improvement of rivers, make a report recommending the adoption of the plan presented by Captain Cowden for the reclamation of overgrown lands in the Mississippi Valley of artificial levees, and the water at various points along the line of the Mississippi River. They further recommend that a convention be held at St. Louis and an excursion made to New Orleans by steamer, and that the Mississippi River Congress and others interested in cheap transportation be invited to attend. The committee also endorse the resolutions passed by the New Orleans Commercial Convention last December, and respectfully request the Governors of the several States bordering on the Mississippi River to respect commissioners on behalf of their respective States, believing that thereby a permanent foundation will be established, from which such special information may be disseminated as will eventually secure the accomplishment of the desired end.

The business block bounded by Fifth Street, Washington Avenue, St. Charles Street and Fourth Street, St. Louis, was partially destroyed by fire on the night of the 4th. During the conflagration two men, Billy Brown and Fred Wilson, were killed by falling walls. Mr. George W. Farrant, aged 28, a member of the St. Louis National Guards, was also killed while trying to save some of the company's property in the Arsenal, the rear of which was on fire. The occupants of the buildings destroyed were Appleton, Neve & Maude, wholesale boots and shoes (in hands of assignee); L. M. Hamilton & Co., wholesale leather goods;

THE DEMON OF THE PRAIRIE.

Terrible Prairie Fires in the Sioux Valley
—The Loss of Life and Property.

[From the Sioux Valley Journal.]
The Sioux Valley from McCook as far north as Beloit, and the country to the westward, has heretofore been the theatre of thrilling experiences in this line, but the fires of Saturday seem to have been the most destructive to property of any on record in this region. The wind blew a gale and hurried the flames along in great billows which leaped over all ordinary fire breaks, and consumed houses, barns and stock which were almost swept from the earth. The growth of grass and weeds was unusually heavy, and having had no rain since early last fall, every thing was dry as tinder and burned with great rapidity and violence.

West of Eden the fire was very furious and destructive. So far as I heard from, several townships were burned over, and in that immediate section more than forty farmers have lost their houses, barns, hay, seed grain, implements, stock, in fact about all the personal property they possessed. O. B. Wheelock, a resident of Beloit, who was in the vicinity of the burning, says that he saw the flames leaping over the tops of the trees, and that the fire was so hot that it melted the iron rails of the railroad, and that the flames were so high that they were visible from the city of Beloit.

—Now shut up your head. Don't let them out till they can be of service. Wait till your neighbor has planted his garden, when they will be found excellent for sweeping down alleys with the surface.—Boston Transcript.

—A member of the rhetorical class in a certain college had just finished his declamation when the Professor said, "Mr. —, do you suppose a General would address his soldiers in the manner in which you spoke that piece?" "Yes, sir, I do," was the reply, "if he was half scared to death."—Boston Globe.

—Every man and then some chap writes to a newspaper for a recipe to prevent hair from coming out. If men would go home from the lodge before midnight with their legs soiled, their wives would come out to rapidly. We always go home early, and we have more hair now than the day we were born.—Norristown Herald.

—A lawyer, the other day, ugly as sin and famous for his big nose, was engaged in a lawsuit, and he was on the ground that the husband had pardoned, and been reconciled to the wife. After the manner of some lawyers, he spoke of "I" and "me," instead of "my client" and "myself." His opponent, he said: "You have pretended that you never granted me reconciliation or pardon. What then is the meaning of this 'I' and 'me' you were talking about on the 15th of December, which concludes with these words, 'I'd like even to kiss that pretty nose of yours'?" The loud laugh made him look round and stopped the flow of his eloquence.—Pure Paper.

—The Burlington young man who went to Leadville in February to make his fortune returned home yesterday evening, having made it. He reports that the fortune he made was as good as lost, for from that point on as far east as Leadville, and from Leadville to Osgood City he got along with comparatively little fatigue and nothing but a good deal of money. He says that he was walking rapidly and his fatigue increased out of all proportion to his exertions, and from Hopkins to Burlington the walking was so weary that he could not go on, and he was obliged to steal on freight trains didn't count for anything. He expresses himself as highly pleased with Leadville, and thinks of going back again, but not this time. He expects to be in the style of his reindeer, by saying that nobody in Leadville was more than one leg to their pants.—Burlington Hawkeye.

—A SPRING FROST. The cow gambols over the green. The turtle pokes his head above the snow. The birds are singing sweetly. The flowers are budding. The sun is shining brightly. The world is full of life and joy.

—A DEADLY POINT OF PRONUNCIATION. At a wedding in South Carolina last month an incident occurred aptly illustrating a point of pronunciation. The bridegroom, who belonged to the "first Southern families," took exception to the phraseology of the officiating clergyman, and remarked, "You speak of the bride and groom as if they had been joined together, but they are not. They are two separate individuals, and should be spoken of as such." The preacher, who prided himself upon his "high-toned" quality of his language, quietly dropped his hand into his pocket, and murmured, "I am sorry, my friend, but I am a poor creature, and I am not worthy to officiate at such a wedding." The bridegroom then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result." The bride replied, "I am satisfied with the result, but I am not satisfied with the ceremony." The officiating clergyman then turned to the bride and said, "I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the ceremony, but I am sure that you will be satisfied with the result."
